Breakfast Ride

It was a nice day but there were few folk at breakfast today.

Enjoying the ride were Miss Trudy, on her trusty trike, Mr. Roy on his buddy outfit, Malcolm and Chris both on Malcolm's lucky outfit, Miss Kirsty in her very own four wheels, and lastly but definitely not least, the Humble king himself, Mr. Bruce with his four wheels.

We made our way to the Apple Valley pancake house (or some such name) a great little haunt we all like off of Randal and Wilson. The food as always was impeccable and the company was even better. There was a great deal of socializing going on and not a lot of riding today but we all enjoyed ourselves immensely.

Miss Trudy is still having problems with her neck and can't ride far at present, Pleased to see Mr. Roy doing much better now after a lengthy problem with his back.. I am having some problems with my arms at the moment and riding is quite difficult, I guess I may have to look into that if it doesn't clear itself up in the near future. Malcolm is doing fine and has no problems at the moment and Bruce seems to be doing ok now. Kirsty is doing fine as a young person should.

Anyways, back to the task at hand. We had a great breakfast and set the world to rights before finally disbanding as chores and things needed to be done.

Until next time,

Ride safe,

Chris.

Easter Colors

Here sits a
Motorcycle,
Shiny and clean,
Waiting for
sunshine to happen again,
The miles of tarmac stretch out in harmony,
The roads sing their happiness on Easter Day,
Ladies time to ride, free and stress-less in happy colors.
Easter colors to brighten the way,
On curvy roads and fast long plains.
A soul mending experience.
A life altering expedition.
Motorcycling,
Happiness,
Freedom,
Life!

Another Breakfast Ride in April.

The weather was just a little on the chilly side when we met at Mickey D's today. Sadly we as well as others in the club didn't have a lot of time due to other commitments. Half the members wanted to go to R Place in Morris, Il. It is my favorite place to go but sadly we did not have the time, so a few of us decided to let the rest of the club go to R Place, but we would go to The Parkway Restaurant in Sycamore.

We set off expecting the other to go to R Place only to find that they all came along to Sycamore as the club is supposed to stick together so I am told. Well I hope in future no one will feel they can't go where they want just because we can't go, the club is "Freedom," to go where you want and when you want.

Please never wait for us, we are free spirits and will usually do whatever takes our dreams for the day.

Anyway, the breakfast was good and the friendship was idyllic. We all had a great time. Sadly, it all goes too quickly and it is time to get back to chores. Will they ever end?

Until next time,
Keep the shiny side up,
Chris.
